Greetings Allisonville Alligators!

August 21, 2020

Teachers have been hard at work assessing students the past couple weeks in both reading and math. This assessment data is very important to help teachers plan for instruction and differentiate learning for individual students. Although virtual, we are still meeting with teams and instructional coaches regularly to review data and talk about the needs of students and how best to meet those needs through curriculum and instruction. As assessments conclude in the upcoming weeks, teachers will begin to hold more small groups for this differentiation.

Instructional assistants are also used to help support students during small group time. In addition to our amazing teachers, we are so fortunate to have wonderful assistants at AV. Included in the renovation at Allisonville, several brand-new small group rooms were added to hallways like the one shown here. Currently, we have instructional assistants in these rooms supporting students throughout the day by either joining classroom zoom calls or hosting a small group of students in their own zoom room. At home you may see your child participate with their teacher but also with other adults in the building.

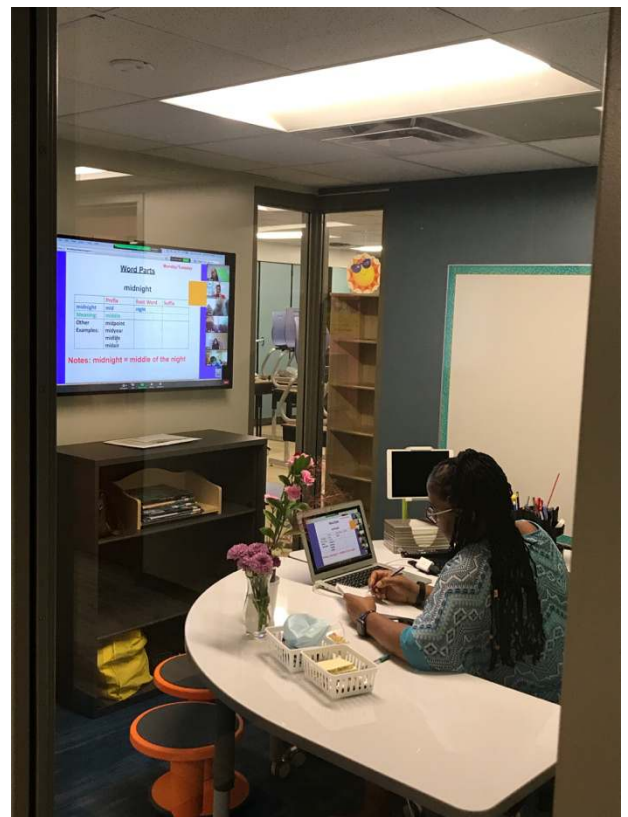

Next week we have some important events so please mark your calendars for the following:

- Dine to Donate at Panda Express on Tuesday, August 25th from 4:00-9:30PM
- School Board Meeting on Wednesday, August 26th at 6:00PM via Zoom
- Early Release on Thursday, August 27th (teachers will be in training and not available after 2:15)
- PTO General Meeting on Thursday, August 27th at 7:00PM via Zoom

Happy Race Weekend Gators!
